

Lorraine Segil is a South African-born entrepreneur, attorney, adviser, lecturer, author, board member, and cheesemaker! She is renowned as the leading Guru in Strategic Alliances having written 5 books on the topic and built (and sold) the leading Consultancy in the area after being CEO of entrepreneurial companies in Health Care and Aerospace Advanced Materials Distribution. She taught Executive Education on Alliances at Caltech for 24 years. She is a Professor at Southwestern Law School on Business Alliances and has been a Professor in the Straus Center Master's Program in Dispute Resolution at Pepperdine ( #1 in the USA). Her Mentoring Methodology for EWA Is proprietary and brings her partnering expertise into a metrics-driven, year-long program that has proven results.

- ❖ Segil was a member of the Board of Frontier Communications ( 2005 -2017) a Fortune 200 company.
- ❖ In 2009, Segil was appointed to the board of the World Health Organization (WHO) Tropical Diseases Group (TDR) in Geneva, Switzerland.
- ❖ She is the past chair of the C200 Foundation, and past Vice-Chair of the C200 Governing Board, the premier global group of over 500 Women CEO's
- ❖ Segil is a member of APCO Worldwide International Advisory Council (IAC).
- ❖ She is Former Chairman of the Board of Kandela, A Digital Concierge Company
- ❖ CEO of The Little Farm Company, a Los Angeles based family holding urban farming company.
- ❖ Segil has been a commentator for CNN and CNBC and has been featured in Fast Company magazine and Bloomberg Business
- ❖ Member of the Board of CalPrivate Bank (OTCQX:PBAM)

As a renaissance woman, Lorraine's passion is to inspire and empower women leaders of the future from high school through graduate school and most importantly, throughout their lives and careers. She has committed to putting her extensive network, expertise in partnering, and global reach to work to assist each of the outstanding women who are her scholars, foundation awardees and alumnae, in their careers, with their commitment to assist each other and future generations of aspiring women leaders after them. This unique approach to philanthropy is hands-on, one on one, and generates a level of growth rarely seen in any mentoring program.

She holds a BA, BA Honors in Classics, Juris Doctorate from Southwestern School of Law, and MBA degree from the Presidential Key Executive MBA Program at Pepperdine.